Developing and validating a comprehensive oral health-related quality of life instrument for 6-7 year-old children: results from a cross-sectional population-based survey in the Netherlands. There is an increasing need for valid and reliable instruments to measure the impact of oral health on quality of life (OHQoL) in children. The aim of this paper was to describe the development and validation of a comprehensive OHQoL instrument for 6-7 year-old children. The study sample consisted of 3264 children participating in the Healthy Primary School-Child Care project. The scale was developed using the Delphi method and consisted of the original and the adapted versions. Both instruments were validated using Rasch analysis and tested for content validity, construct validity, internal consistency and test-retest reliability. An acceptable level of reliability was demonstrated (Cronbach's alpha: 0.79-0.94). All items of the original version and most of those of the adapted version met the content validity and fit the Rasch model. The adapted instrument was significantly correlated with the original instrument in both the correlation with the Oral Health Impact Profile-Child Version and the correlation with the Child Oral Health-Oral Health Quality of Life instrument. No differences were found in internal consistency between the original and the adapted version. The WHO-5 questionnaire, a generic instrument for measuring perceived well-being, was compared to the OHQoL-Child, and was found to be a suitable generic instrument. The OHQoL-Child was found to have good reliability and validity and is suitable for clinical practice and research.

Q: What is the origin of the new passwords? I recently started playing gg.gg and I've noticed that you start with 0 Attack Power (AP) and you have 0 AP, 0 DEF and 15 initial Gold. I also noticed that when you die, you lose 0 AP and all of your stats, however, you do not lose any gold. Is this not against the rules and if so why did they make this change? A: This is not an exception; it is how the game works, period. When you drop to 0 HP, you lose your current stats before losing your gold. That is how health pools work. If you had 50+ HP, you would have 50 HP left. Then you would have 0 AP, 0 DEF, and 0 gold. When you lose HP, you go from 0 HP to 0 HP, not from 50 HP to 0 HP. A: Your initial starting gold, power and attack is 0 because you have not gotten a single point of any stat yet. You start at level 1 with those stats, and you level up and gain stats. A: As others have pointed out, this is just how the game is supposed to work. For those that aren't familiar with the concept of starting at 0, 0HP and 0AP, you are just starting out fresh. You will gain HP through combat as you gain experience. Similarly, your AP will be increased when you level up and gain experience. No amount of leveling will increase your stats before your gold. Prior to a Patch in early May, there was a bug in the calculation of experience when playing solo. This bug caused no experience to be gained as well as no stats to be gained. This led to players expecting this to be like most other games where stats were not gained until after leveling, so they gained no stats while waiting for the bug to be fixed. But this was only temporary, as that patch left the bug in the code and raised the stats of the solo ad The Circle of Kerzovenad or Kerzozvenad, was originally called the Circle of Arzan (Astari at Arzan) after a group of Arbëreshë in the early medieval times, which originated at Labëria. Later, in the Ottoman area the term was applied to the socio-legal and economic elite, qualified on the basis of their particular social role and the religious conditions of the time. The term was successively used in historiography, a historical commentary by John Van Nimwegen, and the book of Ylli Brom, where it is used to refer not only to Arbëreshë from the district of Arbëresh-Kunder (Arbëreshkë Kunder) in the present-day Komotini in the region of Thrace, but also to the Albanians who were employed during the Ottoman rule in the service of the state (kanun-ist polity). In Van Nimwegen's work Jwijsz (1860), published in Cologne, the term represented a large number of wealthy and influential Arbëreshë, who had a significant impact on the destiny of the church in the Monarchy of Brazil. Van Nimwegen was the honorary consul of this court in Rio de Janeiro, appointed by the royal court of William, King of the Dutch who represented the House of Orange-Nassau; his website is attached to the Royal House of Orange of the Netherlands, today part of which is the Netherlands Antilles, together with (were the principal) Caribbean islands. Also, in the book of Ylli Brom that later was published (1949), we find: Kerzozvenad - vazaliko zyrtare (True Men of the Valley). Their history is still alive (today refer to Korça). Sources The phrase "lymphada / kerzozvenad" is found in an important paragraph of two letters written by Paulus from Greece to D. Pantaleon, March 13, 1494-1497-March 14, 1513, at the end of his last mission as metropolitan bishop of Thessaloniki. In the first letter, addressed to the archdiocese of Acre-Telassi and the consulate of Acre, dated March 13, 1494-3/6/90 two decades after it had been capitulated, the towns of Antioch
